Artists' Open Houses

Over the weekends at the end of June and beginning of July there were 20 houses in East Finchley exhibiting the work of over 70 artists – Open Houses rather than Open Studios, and another reminder that some wonderful art is produced by our neighbours.

One of the houses is on the Suburb, in Brookland Rise, and was showing the work of five artists with jewellery, ceramics, photographs, textiles, glasswork, mixed media and silk prints. A wonderful mix.

Find out about their next event at www.eastfinchleyopen.org.uk.

Tennis Club's new recruit

Take a stroll through Farm Walk, the verdant pathway linking Hampstead Way and Temple Fortune Lane, to catch a glimpse of the Tennis Club's 'new' member. In full flight on the grass verge of the car park is the sculpture modelled on Suzanne Lenglen the leading French tennis player of the 20s and 30s. She was noted for her balletic style of play and innovative tennis costume, introducing the short white dress to ladies' tennis.

him when making the piece, which is now a Club attraction. 'After Suzanne' was gifted to Farm Walk by Michael on condition that the Club requested members to make donations to the North London Hospice.

Further to their generosity it is anticipated that the Club will raise additional funds through future charity tournaments, which are a regular feature of Club life.

Michael's sculptures are now adorning many Suburb and local area gardens raising much needed money for the Hospice.

Created for the Club by member Michael Berg, it was these features that appealed to

Letter to the Editor

Manchester M15 5FF

Dear Sir,

Memories of Camilla Raab?

I am researching a book about Bill Leader, the famed folk producer, and I would be very interested to hear readers' recollections of Camilla Raab, a resident of Hogarth Hill for thirty years. I would particularly be interested in hearing her views about music, politics and (combining the two), the Workers' Music Association, where she worked as the clerical administrator while Bill was a volunteer and later, the production manager of Topic, the record arm of the WMA. I can be contacted by email at wildchild.butler@gmail.com or by post at Mike Butler, 71 Hunmanby Avenue, Manchester, M15 5FF, or by phone at 0161 226 5461.

Yours
Mike Butler
