

Family Holiday Association Fete on the Square

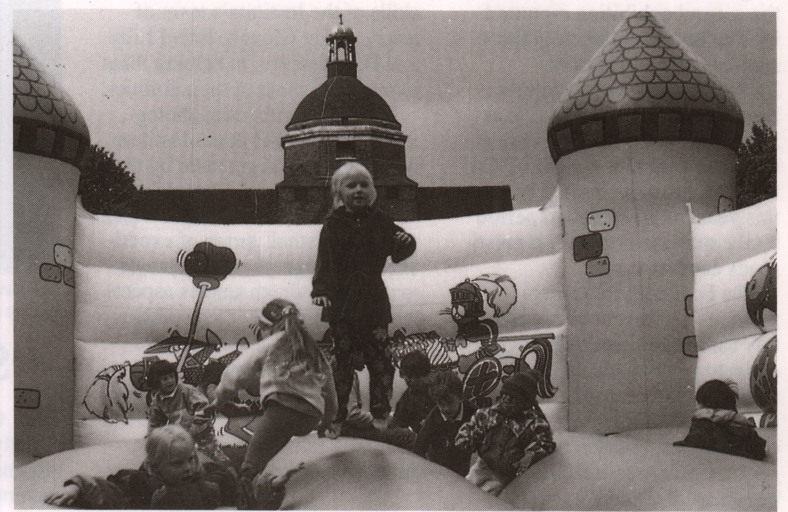

The Family Holiday Association's Fete on the Square enjoyed somewhat better weather than last year's record rainfall. All the old favourites were there plus a new attraction for kids, a Klingon, who mingled with the crowds in case any of the members of the Starship Enterprise happened to 'beam-down'. Old favourites who won't be coming back, at least as organisers, are Joan and Pat Laurance who have declared that, 20 years after founding the FFA, they quite definitely are not going to organise the Fete again and are looking for someone to take over what has become a traditional Suburb summer fixture.
