Nativity at St Jude's

The St Jude's Sunday school and junior choir once again enchanted a congregation of parents and members of the church as they performed on Christmas Eve.

WORDSEARCH WINNER

Congratulations to Ethel Whitehead of Willifield Way who won the Autumn Wordsearch competition on the Roman Towns of England. Ethel must be one of the few Suburb residents who have lived all their life in the same house. Ethel was born in her home, which her parents purchased at the start of the Suburb building programme. Ethel attended the Garden Suburb school before following her brothers to Hendon County. During her school days, she was very active as a brownie, girl guide, ranger and subsequently, Brown Owl. She then worked for the Civil Service in various locations including Whitehall and the Elephant and Castle. She retired to nurse her mother and worked part time at the Royal Free Hospital. Walking

I'm not sure this was such a good idea holidays took her as far as Greece and Austria. Ethel is a regular member of the Fellowship and runs the Chiropody Rota. Her interests are Scrabble, crosswords and visiting galleries and exhibitions. In addition, she listens to classical music and in particular likes to attend concert rehearsals.

With her £20 Book Token, Ethel will choose a reference work.

WORDSEARCH ANSWERS

Autumn 1995 - Roman Towns of England

The names of the fourteen Roman towns hidden in the box were:

Bath	London	Gloucester	Chester
Colchester	Carlisle	York	Dorchester
Lincoln	Exeter	Cirencester	Leicester
Canterbury	Winchester

A well-subscribed wordsearch. Sadly, there was a publication error and Lincoln was spelt Lincpn. This did not deter most of the entrants. Mr Lowe gave the correct names in Latin. I am wondering if this wordsearch was too easy?
