RAISING FUNDS FOR
TOYNBEE HALL AND NORTH LONDON HOSPICE

Welcome to Proms at St Jude's

Welcome to the 21st year of the Proms at St Jude's. This annual event raises funds for two excellent causes – Toynbee Hall and the North London Hospice – to which we were delighted to be able to donate £50,000 in 2012. It is also a wonderful way of bringing the community together, supporting young artists and celebrating top quality music and literature.

You will see in this programme a wide range of concerts, designed for all tastes, including lunchtime events which are free. On the first weekend, we have eight top authors in our LitFest, run in association with The Henrietta Barnett School. And there is a series of walks where you can see familiar parts of London with new eyes. Become a Friend and enjoy priority booking and other benefits.

Thank you for taking an interest in what is on offer. Do come along and experience the magic of this superb festival.

Friends First

Priority booking for Friends of Proms at St Jude's – Ticket orders from Friends take priority over bookings from others, see page 14.

If you would like to become a Friend – it can cost as little as £35 – visit the Proms at St Jude's website www.promsatstjudes.org.uk or complete the form in the centre of this leaflet.

Refreshments

Come and visit the LitFest café – open throughout the first weekend of the festival for fresh sandwiches, delicious home-made cakes, tea, coffee and soft drinks. It is located in The Henrietta Barnett School, near to all the LitFest action.

For a snack, sandwich or drink before a lunchtime or evening concert, try our licensed refreshment marquee, beside St Jude-on-the-Hill Church. Wine and beer, hot and cold drinks and a tempting range of food are available from noon to 2pm and from 7pm.

12.45pm | Family Concert
Pandemonium on the Square

Supported by the HGS Residents Association

The Pandemonium Drummers and Friends. The massed ranks of the wonderful Pandemonium Drummers and the Industrial Revolution Workers were a huge hit for the millions who watched the London 2012 Olympics opening ceremony on TV. Don't miss this chance for all the family to see and hear some of them live. They'll be drumming out their joyful, ebullient – and loud – music on Central

Pandemonium Drummers

Square along with a choir of amazing volunteer Games Makers from London 2012. If it's wet, they'll be in the Church making the rafters roar.

7.45pm | The Magic of Vienna

Supported by the Bertha Foundation

The London International Orchestra with Paul Bateman conductor. The acclaimed orchestra and international opera singers celebrate the great Austrian composers including Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Brahms, Strauss and Lehár.

Jesús León tenor – Praised for his stratospheric high notes, innate musicality and dashing good looks, Mexican Jesús León is one of today's most talented young lyric tenors.

Njabulo Madlala baritone – South African-born Njabulo won the 2010 Kathleen Ferrier Competition and the 2012 Royal Overseas League Trophy for the Most Outstanding Musician from Overseas.

Mary Nelson soprano – Mary's many performances around Europe have included Bach's St. Matthew Passion with the City of London Sinfonia and Vivaldi's La Senna Festeggiante with The King's Consort in The Netherlands.

Victoria Simmonds mezzo-soprano – Victoria has won international acclaim as a singer of traditional and contemporary classical pieces.

7.45pm | Lucie Skeaping and The Burning Bush

Songs and dance music from the old Jewish world

Supported by the John S Cohen Foundation

Singer, instrumentalist, broadcaster and author, Lucie Skeaping – a one-time pupil at The Henrietta Barnett School and King Alfred School – is a noted exponent of popular songs from 16th and 17th century England and also plays baroque violin, fiddle and rebec. Her enthusiasm for early, often profane, ballads led to The Daily Telegraph describing her as 'the bawdy babe of Radio 3'. Her performances with her pioneering Burning Bush sextet have been described as a feral mix of rapturous Klezmer rhythms, heart-tugging Hasidic folk melodies, infectious Ottoman dance, haunting Ladino ballads and Yiddish ghetto songs and a joy from first note to last.

Gemma Sharples, Verity Evanson & Pippa Harrison

7.45pm | Jack Liebeck Piano Trio

Supported by the Jacqueline & Michael Gee Charitable Trust

Jack Liebeck violin, Guy Johnston cello and Katya Apekisheva piano. Beethoven Trio No 1 in E flat; Ravel Trio in A minor; Schubert Trio No 1 in B flat.

Jack Liebeck

One of the most inspirational young violinists on the concert platform, Jack Liebeck has performed with many of the world's leading orchestras. His recording of the Dvořák Violin Concerto with Garry Walker and the Royal Scottish National Orchestra and Dvořák's Sonata and Sonatina with Katya Apekisheva secured him the 2010 Classical BRIT Award as Young British Performer of the Year.

'A musician of exceptional gifts, blessed as he is with a glorious, mellifluous tone and interpretative insight.' The Daily Telegraph

Guy Johnston won the BBC Young Musician of the Year award in 2000. He has played with the London Philharmonic and BBC Philharmonic Orchestras and the Deutsches Symphonie Orchester Berlin.

'Johnston has already forged a place as one of the country's most promising and distinctive cellists.' The Strad

Russian-born Katya Apekisheva is one of Europe's foremost pianists, in demand as a soloist and chamber musician. She has performed as a soloist with the London Philharmonic, The Hallé and the Moscow Philharmonic. Her 2011 recording with Jack Liebeck of the complete Brahms Sonatas was a critical triumph, as was her solo CD of works by Mussorgsky and Shostakovich.

'Astute colours and brilliant technique.' The Times

LitFest Weekend

in association with The Henrietta Barnett School

Following the success of our first Literary Weekend last year, we are delighted to welcome a host of top authors and celebrity guests in 2013.

Saturday 22 June

11.00am-12 noon | Tim Smit

Sir Tim Smit is the inspirational and indefatigable force behind the Eden Project in Cornwall, which has been described as 'the eighth wonder of the world'. He is the author of The Lost Gardens of Heligan and Eden, the best-selling book on the environment so far this century.

2.00-3.00pm | Susan Greenfield

Baroness Susan Greenfield the distinguished scientist, writer and broadcaster is interviewed by Guardian Science Editor Alok Jha. Susan Greenfield has never been afraid of controversy and her views on the adverse effects of modern technology on child development provoked strong reactions in the scientific community. Her first novel, 2121: A Story for the 22nd Century, set just over a hundred years in the future, will be published in July this year.

4.00-5.00pm | Kate Atkinson

Kate Atkinson is that rare gem, a literary novelist whose books race to the top of the bestseller lists. She won the Whitbread (now Costa) Book of the Year prize with her first novel, Behind the Scenes at the Museum. Her most recent novels, including When Will There Be Good News? and Started Early, Took My Dog feature the irresistible private eye Jackson Brodie. She talks to Times Literary Editor Erica Wagner about her latest novel, Life After Life, published in March this year.

5.30-6.30pm | Michael Holroyd

Winner of the 2005 David Cohen Literary Prize, Sir Michael Holroyd is renowned for his two volumes of memoirs, Basil Street Blues and Mosaic, and for his biographies of Augustus John, Bernard Shaw and Lytton Strachey. He talks to broadcaster Sue MacGregor about his most recent work, A Book Of Secrets: illegitimate daughters, absent fathers, an atmospheric blend of memoir and biographies of notable women.

Sunday 23 June

12.30-1.30pm | Antonio Carluccio

Antonio Carluccio moved to London in 1975 and opened the first Carluccio's Caffè in 1998. He has written 13 bestsellers. His latest book, Two Greedy Italians, written with BBC TV sparring partner Gennaro Contaldo, contains more than 100 mouthwatering recipes and captures the authors' humour, wisdom, curiosity and, above all, shared passion for good, simple food.

2.00-3.00pm | Sandra Howard

One of the leading fashion models of the 1960s, Sandra Howard now plays an active role in two national charities and has forged a successful career as a novelist. Her most recent novel, Ex-Wives, focuses on the insecurities of second wives. Sandra is married to former Conservative Party leader, Michael Howard.

3.30-4.30pm | Simon Garfield

Hampstead resident Simon Garfield has written 13 acclaimed and diverse non-fiction books including Just My Type: A Book About Fonts and The End of Innocence: Britain in the time of AIDS for which he won the Somerset Maugham Prize. His most recent, On the Map, examines cartography from the earliest sketches to Google maps, and shows how maps relate to and realign our history.

5.00-6.00pm | Edward Stourton

Edward Stourton is a writer and presenter of current affairs programmes and documentaries for radio and television, including BBC Radio 4's The World at One and Analysis, and is a frequent contributor to the Today programme. He is the author of six books and discusses with Rabbi Laura Janner-Klausner the latest, Cruel Crossing - Escaping Hitler Across the Pyrenees, published this April.

Books, books, books!

Books will be on sale from Waterstones booksellers on site. All our authors have very kindly agreed to come and talk at the Proms LitFest without a fee so that the money from ticket sales can go to help support our nominated charities.
