Seen here Cllr John Marshall was picking some bargains for his garden from Chris and Lorna Page's plant stall.

Cllr Tambourides and the Lady Mayoress spent a "fascinating" afternoon finding out about the work of the Institute on Open Day. "He was very interested and appreciative," said Fay Naylor, "he seemed to make friends with everyone and found lots of fellow Cypriots to talk to."

The Andresier family from Corringham Road were among many who enjoyed the Summer Festival side of the Institute's traditional Open Day.

The Garden Suburb School's fete was a lively affair as always but this year further enlivened by the presence of Patti Boulaye fresh from a run of her African Dance spectacular Sun Dance. Seen here with Mary Rose Mack the school's new music co-ordinator and Beans Balawi, Patti Boulaye had been encouraging contestants and awarding prizes for some remarkable performances from the pupils.

Betty Law's visit to Henrietta Barnett's neglected grave, see Suburb News Autumn '04, has resulted in Henrietta Barnett School organising its restoration and setting up a fund for its maintenance. Anyone who wishes to contribute should contact Jo Velleman at the school.
