

Celebrating our Centenary

ALL PHOTOGRAPHS BY RICHARD WAKEFIELD UNLESS OTHERWISE ATTRIBUTED

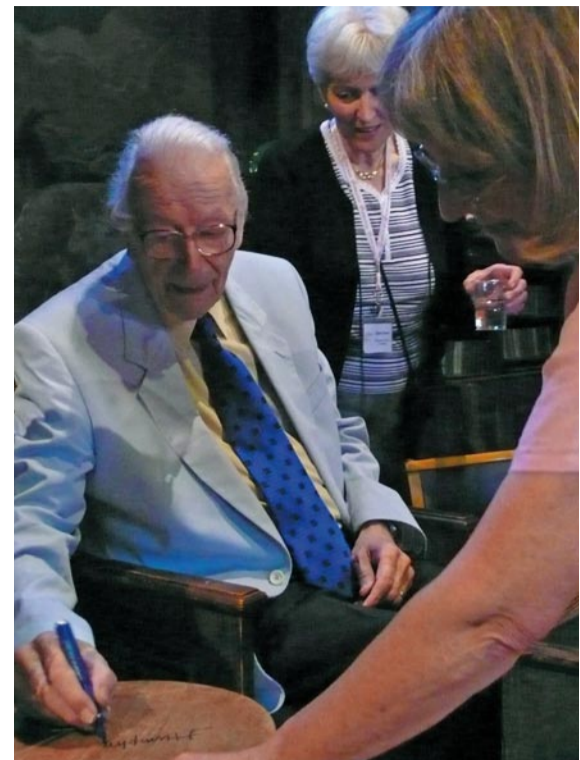

Susie Gregson at the Last Night

Henry Kelly launches the Proms on the first night, which was sponsored by the RA

Proms at St Jude's is thrilled to announce that sponsorship, advertising, sales figures and audience numbers exceeded all expectations this year. With more than 4,000 people attending concerts and ticket sales increasing by 25%, Proms will be giving over £65,000 to its designated charities, Toynbee Hall and North London Hospice, an increase of 20% on 2006's contribution. The decidedly mixed weather didn't manage to blight a hugely-appreciated nine days of wonderful music-making in a party atmosphere, culminating in the second half of the last night being relayed to a damp audience in Central Square before the Centenary firework display. Plans for Proms 2008 are well under way. Dates for your diary: June 14th to 22nd. To be added to the mailing-list, or for information on becoming a Friend and thus ensuring that you get the tickets you want when the time comes: telephone 020 8455 8687.

An unusual signing for Humph, Carol Kemp's stool, Helen Roose looks on.

The Leaderkramers and Joan Fogel enjoy an interval glass of Proms wine

Centenary Pageant author Ian Davidson helps at the Proms too

Lord and Lady Winston with Proms helper Elinor Delaney

Welcoming the Business and Leisure traveller alike

Located in the heart of the Community, the newly built Express by Holiday Inn London-Golders Green offers brand new fully air-conditioned bedrooms boasting superb comfort at budget prices.

All of our modern, stylish bedrooms benefit from high speed internet access, real flat TV screens, a wide selection of TV and radio channels and power showers in addition to all the extras which go to making your stay more enjoyable.

Our meeting rooms, which hold up to 25 people, are fully air-conditioned and located on the ground floor for easy access. Half Day and Full Day rates are available.

There are various eateries and kosher restaurants in the local area and car parking is available.

In our aim to serve the local Community, we offer Shabbat Lifts and Kosher Facilities on request.

SPECIAL RATES AVAILABLE THROUGHOUT THE YEAR

Express by Holiday Inn London - Golders Green

58 Regents Park Road, London N3 3JN

TEL: 020 8371 6060 · FAX: 020 8371 6061 · EMAIL: reservations@expressgg.com

Also incorporating

AVENUE

London's newest state-of-the-art Conference & Events Centre

Fireworks for Diana Ivi, her sister from down under and Jocelyn Wakefield

Clemmy Davidson and friends camped out for the fireworks

Pupils from Suburb schools enjoyed the free lunchtime concerts

HGS Astronomical society brought the stars to the Suburb for the centenary. Presenter Matthew Hume, Andrew Glendinning, Will Sowerbutts and Diane Fishman with their planetarium in the Free Church Hall

The Ross family at the Horticultural Society's spring show where Jonathan judged the scarecrow competition

