

Mervyn Miller and the Centenary committee under Eddie Caplin had been working for years to bring an international symposium to fruition as part of the Suburb centenary. Put on by the Town and Country Planning Association it started with a day in London where contributions were heard from Professor Sir Peter Hall (right holding a centenary programme for which he had written a foreword), Suburb resident Philip Davis of English Heritage and Dr Miller:

The day on the Suburb, at the invitation of Henrietta Barnett School, was graced by the presence of HRH the Duke of Gloucester, seen left with Anthony Fyson TCPA, accepting a presentation book from Colin Gregory who had arranged the royal visit. A number of residents were presented to His Royal Highness during the lunch break when he also unveiled a commemorative stone and toured the churches

Oliver Blond, Henrietta Barnett School head

Lunch for HRH under the gaze of the Dame

David Davidson, Trust architect takes an international group round the Suburb

Oboist Neil Black and Carlos Duran

Deputy Lord Lieutenant Martin Russell

Patron Michael Darke, Mrs Darke, patrons Chris and Wendy Parry, Richard and Carol Kemp enjoy refreshments on the Square

Farm Walk Tennis Club's contribution was an Edwardian match attended by patron Angela Buxton. Many entered into the spirit with Edwardian costume.

Rosalind Joseph and Robin Hyman centenary patron

Lorna Page and Chairman Lewis

Alice and Robyn Manley

Sebastian Flyte aka Deborah Warland with Sally Botterill

Mary Seneschal

With the Square back to normal sixth formers, tennis players and the RA centenary banner remain

THE HENRIETTA BARNETT LITERARY SOCIETY

To mark the Centenary of Hampstead Garden Suburb and to complement The Henrietta Barnett Choral Society, The Henrietta Barnett School, together with St Jude's Church, is launching

The Henrietta Barnett Literary Society

The first event will be on 11th October 2007

at The Hall, The Henrietta Barnett School, Central Square, London NW11
where our guest speaker will be the author and broadcaster

WILL SELF

Tickets £5.00 per head in advance from Jo Velleman, The Henrietta Barnett School, Central Square,
London NW11 7BN

Please send an sae and make your cheque payable to HBS Trust

There is no charge for HBS students or staff, but space MUST be reserved in advance please.

If you would like to be on our mailing list for future HB Literary Society events, please email Jo Velleman development@hbschool.org.uk or phone 0208 209 9730